November 30th - Mastering Information Literacy Workshop

In today's world, information about everything is available at our fingertips. It's important to know how to sift through all of this data to find resources, determine their value, and synthesize them meaningfully. Follett is partnering with Kane County ROE to offer a professional development course, Mastering Information Literacy!

In this session, we will explore four steps to help you build an information literacy project for your students and show you how Follett can help. The course will be held at the Kane County ROE office and will be from 8:30 AM - 3:00 PM
